

Chain Mail

News from Share the Feeling Productions

Quarterly e-news

Issue 2, February 2007

Love is in the air in our second e-newsletter, as we get ready for our first ever exhibition at the National Wedding Show! It's been a busy few months for Share the Feeling Productions, creating invitations, gifts and stationery for wonderful weddings, brilliant birthdays and bat mitzvahs, and inventing splashes of splodge – see our Client Spotlight for more details.

The Chain Gang is expanding rapidly (and noisily!) – check out Hansa's diary to catch up on their news – and the FABULOUS Kate Webster has also just joined the team. She wrote this newsletter (well, not this bit obviously) and she is a superstar!

For all the news that's fit to print..

New Wedding Range leaps off the shelf!

To add to our gorgeous bespoke creations, Share the Feeling is about to launch four fabulous new suites of off the shelf wedding stationery, at even more fabulous prices!

Offering something for every style of wedding, our four ravishing ranges are: Luxe (below left) – in rich patterns and deep jewel colours, Luxe is fabulous, opulent and just a little bit decadent. Classic – restrained, traditional yet timeless, Classic will complement the most elegant of weddings. Provence – using tactile textured papers in warm shades with just a touch of shimmer, Provence (above right) has that certain je ne sais quoi. Eco-chic – the natural choice, made from hand-crafted paper with pressed flowers and grasses.

All this gorgeousness will be hot off the presses at the National Wedding Show, and from Spring 2007 you'll also be able to see it on our re-vamped website at www.sharethefeeling.co.uk/offtheself

If you just can't wait that long, please give us a call on +44 (0) 207 254 7588 to find out more.

Share the Feeling.co.uk gets a face lift...

In our struggle for ever-increasing gorgeousness, we're giving our website a makeover – the new and improved version will be online from Spring 2007!

With more pictures and a fresh new design, the re-vamped site will also mean you can buy Share the Feeling products online, starting with our range of ©Little Gifts of Feeling. Every day in every way, we're getting better and better..

Like us to drop you a line when the new site's up and running? Click here to let us know:

Drop me a line when the new site goes live!

Come visit us at the National Wedding Show

Olympia, London: Feb 23-25, 2007

the national wedding show

Share the Feeling is packing its bags for a visit to Olympia; we'll be on stand B65 at The National Wedding Show from February 23 - 25, 2007.

Please do come and visit us to see samples of our latest exciting work, explore how we can create something incredibly individual for your event, or to source gorgeous unique wedding favours for your gorgeously unique wedding.

We'd be lonely without you.

For more details about the National Wedding Show, just click this link

Client Spotlight - Splodge

<http://www.planetsplodge.co.uk>

Splodge produces bespoke interactive events for children, which are completely tailored to each client. The company wanted a suitable gift to give their guests, but when they couldn't find anything on the market that was quite right for them, they turned to Share the Feeling.

Based on our ©Little Gifts of Feeling, we created a unique "Little Splash of Splodge" as the perfect present for them. The Splashes of Splodge encapsulate exactly what the company's about, with items like an elastic band – to stretch your imagination, glitter – for the added sparkle Splodge gives to your event and feet – so that you can jump right in!

The brightly-coloured bags are made by seamstresses at the Heba Womens' Project in Brick Lane, using locally sourced materials. Kathini Cameron, from Splodge said: "We were looking for something uniquely splodgey – something that we could give to clients to remind them of us and it was important that it was interactive, like our events. The Little Splashes of Splodge were perfect for us; they really express who we are and are a fabulous original fun gift! Working with an ethical company was the icing on the cake!"

We're happy to create unique ©Little Gifts of Feeling for you at no extra cost; just let us know what feeling you'd like to share. To visit Splodge, simply click!

That's all for now folks

That's all for now, but please do get in touch and let us know what you think of our new products, the website, this newsletter - or anything else you think we ought to know!

To share your thoughts with Share the Feeling, please contact us. We'd love to hear from you...

e: hello@sharethefeeling.co.uk
phone: +44 (0)207 254 7588
web: www.sharethefeeling.co.uk

Want to keep up to date with all our news? Join our mailing list!
Just click here...